CHARLES DOUGLAS GILDING STUDIO

Welcome to the 2021 End-of-the-Year
Winter Update of
The Gilding Arts Newsletter!

---

Seasons Greetings to all from the Gilding Studio!

The year is finally coming to a close and as we all know its been another tough one with this Pandemic that keeps hanging on but creatively we're still strong and we've had many exciting opportunities and adventures from what I hear and see from many of you. And so another interesting new year lies ahead!

January ushers in the first New York in-person gilding class series in 2 years! The classes are quickly filling but we still have 3 seats left for Gold Leaf Restoration and 2 for Glass Gilding/Églomisé (see the links below for those who wish to scoop them up!). And for those who have been patiently waiting for your NYC class makeup rest assured that your seats are being held (you'll be hearing from the Gildingstudio shortly!). Owen Sound is still in a holding pattern but your seats are still good and hopefully renewal will open up for early Summer. Stay tuned!

The newest online class Sgraffito is nearly sold out as well with 3 spots left so if you've been thinking of exploring the use of egg tempera over water gilded leaf you still have an opportunity to join us for the Winter Session.

Also, watch for news for an in-person class on Water Gilded Panels at the Kalamazoo Institute of Arts in August and a weekend Gilding for Works of Art class in October at the Pacific Northwest Art School in Coupeville, Whidbey Island, WA (where my new gilding studio will soon be - but more on that later!).

Meanwhile, thank you to all for accompanying me on this creative gilding journey. There is so much to discover in this intriguing artform, from Medieval methods, techniques, and materials to contemporary innovations. I am fortunate to be on this path with you and look forward to an exciting 2022!

Enjoy your holidays or simply just a little downtime. Be safe and healthy and keep creating!

Peace, health, and Clarity,

3 Spots Left! The Art of Sgraffito

Sgraffito, Italian for ‘scratched’, is a decorative process used in gilding where design elements are etched into an egg tempera paint which is applied over a burnished water gilded surface revealing the brilliant gold leaf ground underneath. The use of this medieval decorative approach was used on early gilded and tempera panel paintings and statuary and continues today as used as embellishment in the centuries-old tradition of finely handcrafted picture frames.

Join us for this special 3-Session Masterclass as we learn to prepare and apply a casein-based egg yolk gilder’s tempera over a 23k water gilded panel and Florentine period picture frame corner. We will also explore weak sizes and shellac as protective coatings and the use of punchwork to enhance the revealed gilded ground that can catch the light for a touch of added sparkle!

(Sgraffito will be taught on pre-gilded surfaces so knowledge of water gilding is recommended for this class though not required if you simply wish to explore the art of Sgraffito)
